INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS OF JAS MANUSCRIPTS

Effective January 1, 1984 the Journal of Animal Science adopted a new policy with respect to submission of manuscripts for publication. All authors regardless of whether senior or coauthor must provide a signed affidavit assuring that they have read the manuscript prior to submission and are fully aware of its content and that no substantial portion of the research has been published or is being submitted for publication elsewhere. Receipt of such an assurance shall be a condition for review and consideration of the manuscript for publication. A copy of the affidavit appears on the next page. Copies of the affidavit may be submitted independently by various authors if, e.g., they are currently located at different institutions. Adoption of this policy was approved by the ASAS Board of Directors at the annual meeting in July and is based upon the following reasons: 1) It is apparent to the Editorial Board that manuscripts are frequently submitted for publication without having been read by the coauthors and sometimes even without their knowledge and 2) The American Society of Animal Science wishes to avoid legal complications that may arise out of publication of research not approved by the authors or published without their knowledge. It is emphasized that after January 1, 1984 no manuscripts will be considered for publication until this affidavit (or copies thereof) signed by all authors is received.
